Estate jewelry makes a comeback

There is something so special about a piece of jewelry made long ago. Many estate pieces have a history—who bought the piece and why? Since most jewelry is purchased for a loved one, it makes you wonder who owned the piece and who gave it to them. Was there a great love story or special event? Many designs from the past are unique to their time periods and not often seen these days.

At Boves we have recently set up a new area for our estate pieces. We have approximately 150 pieces of estate jewelry, including rings, pins, necklaces, bracelets, earrings and timepieces. Prices of our estate jewelry range from $15.00 for an antique gemstone stick pin to $10,000.00 for the highest-end pieces.

Boves has more than 150 pieces of beautiful estate jewelry for you to choose from.
